WILLIAM GRAY OF LYNN, MASSACHUSETTS, AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS.

BY EDWARD GRAY.

1. WILLIAM[1] GRAY was probably the first of his family in America, and the earliest record I find of him is his marriage intention recorded at Lynn, Nov. 16, 1706. The first land he bought in Lynn was from John Kirtland on Oct. 5, 1709; later, in 1712, he bought from Samuel Burrill, for £85, four lots of land in Lynn. He is called cordwainer in the Essex County deeds, and also husbandman, and is said to have initiated the manufacture of shoes by operatives in Lynn. At the town meeting, March 7, 1714/15, he was chosen one of the fence viewers "for ye town fields for ye year ensuing." At the same meeting, and also on March 7, 1719/20, he was chosen one of those "to take care and prosecute ye town order that prohibits keeping geese in ye Commons." He was chosen one of the tithingmen, March 3, 1717/18, and March 3, 1728/29, and on March 6, 1720/21, one of the tithingmen and "to seat boyes in the Meeting House and to prevent disorders on the Lord's Day." On Nov: 3,

NOTE.—As far as any one knows, this Lynn family has no connection with the Gray families of Yarmouth, Plymouth, Boston, Salem, Beverly, etc., and on account of these numerous families, I have been unable, in some cases, to trace some branches of our Grays when they moved or left no record. "A Gray Genealogy," by M. D. Raymond, under Salem Grays, says William Gray of Lynn was the son of Joseph Gray of Salem and Deborah Williams, but I can find absolutely no proof of it. There is also a tradition that William Gray's father was named William Gray and came from England to Salem, but I cannot find any proof of that. From the names he gave his children, it seems possible our William Gray belonged to the Grays of Harrow-on-the-Hill and London, England, where the names William, Jeremiah, and Abraham Gray occur. There is nothing which shows whether or not, William Gray had any connection with Robert Gray of Lynn, whose marriage intention is recorded at Lynn, Oct. 19, 1700, to Dorothy Collins.

1718, he was chosen "to serve on ye jury of legalls at the next superior court to be holden at Salem."

His marriage intention is recorded at Lynn, Nov. 16, 1706, to Hannah Scarlet (name also spelt Scadled, Scadlet, Scadlock), daughter of —— Scarlet and Hannah (Paul) (Suffolk Deeds, 36 : 232). She was buried at Lynn, Oct. 28, 1756.

His will, dated April 13, 1743, leaves to his wife all his property, except the following : to son Abraham, one wood lot nigh Burrill's Hill, containing about three acres ; to son Joseph, one small lot salt marsh lying in Lynn, in Rumney Marsh, nigh Bear Creek, containing about two acres ; to my daughter Hannah, 5 shillings, which (with what I have heretofore given her) is her full portion in my estate. After death of wife, all estate, not herein particularly given, to my four sons, Jeremiah, Abraham, Benjamin and Joseph. He died at Lynn, June 7, 1743.

I think it safe to say he was the youngest son of William Gray, because his father named him last in his will, and also on account of the date of his marriage, 1756. He was a cordwainer and husbandman, and lived in Lynn and Danvers. On March 3, 1760, he was chosen one of the tithingmen, and in 1762 and 1763 leather sealer. His will, dated at Salem, Aug. 17, 1799, mentions his brother, Sylvanus Gray, as sole legatee, showing his wife had died before that date, leaving no issue. He was a merchant.
